STONE ISLAND | NEW BALANCE FURON V8 + FOOTBALL KIT
A CONTINUOUS EXPLORATION
FEATURING DAVE & BUKAYO SAKA

November 17th, 2025 – Stone Island and New Balance present the latest evolution of an ongoing partnership between two different cultures of innovation. This release revisits the world of football with a new iteration of the Furon V8 boot and a re-engineered Football Kit, bringing together New Balance's on-pitch expertise and Stone Island's material research through a mutual focus on technical construction and purpose-led design.

The campaign captures the new collaborative design with Bukayo Saka and Dave debuting the collection on a football pitch in London, filmed by Blackwall and photographed by Dexter Navy.

The STONE ISLAND | NEW BALANCE Furon V8, crafted for speed and precision, is presented in a monochrome palette that underscores its streamlined construction. Its Hypoknit upper is bonded to a matt polyurethane film and detailed with an integrated ripstop texture, subtle camouflage motif, and 3D screen printed logos. The supportive low-profile collar is marked by reflective yarns and dual raised stripes—mirrored in the woven heel tab—referencing recurring Stone Island design elements. Off-set lacing provides engineered lockdown and an uninterrupted strike zone, while the new Speed Ctrl Stud is designed to support control during sudden stops and sharp pivots. The soleplate combines matt paint at the forefoot with a chrome-electroplated heel, drawing on Stone Island's ongoing exploration of material contrast and metal-inspired treatments.

The Football Kit includes a jersey, shorts, and socks, developed through the same design lens as the Furon V8. The jersey is crafted in polyester jacquard with engineered mesh zones, finished with bonded seams and tape-reinforced cover stitching. Raised logos with a ripstop texture and reflective accents appear across jersey and shorts, while the socks feature tonal embroidery and dual stripes in open mesh—details that draw visual parallels to the boot, unifying the overall set.
