MONCLER FOOTWEAR FALL/WINTER 2026

A new chapter of exploration, where the spirit of the outdoors
meets utilitarian luxury design

Milan, August 10, 2026 – Moncler was born from a pursuit to explore the outdoors, with a DNA rooted in protection against the harshest elements and a spirit dedicated to reaching the highest peaks. With its trailblazing Fall/Winter 2026 collection, Moncler Footwear continues this legacy.

Inspired by the mountains, the metropolis, and the paths that connect them, the new collection reaffirms Moncler's enduring relationship with the outdoors through advanced performance and comfort. Offering a new perspective on urban exploration, it translates alpine heritage into refined footwear, combining sophisticated materials with elevated design for everyday adventures.

Today, Moncler unveils reimagined iterations of its enduring footwear icons, introduces new designer collaborations, and presents future classics destined for life on and off the trail.

The Moncler + Clarks Originals Trailgrip Wallabee GTX

An icon, reimagined for new terrain. Moncler and Clarks Originals unite to transform the legendary Wallabee into a performance style where timeless craftsmanship meets technical innovation. Rendered in soft khaki or beige suede, the design is enhanced with a breathable, waterproof GORE-TEX lining. Grounded by Moncler's signature Trailgrip Vibram® rubber sole, the style offers exceptional grip, lasting comfort, and confident performance from city streets to mountain trails.

Launching early September

The Moncler + Rick Owens Trailgrip Megalace

Moncler's technical outdoor expertise meets Rick Owens' subversive, avant-garde vision in a bold reinterpretation of the Trailgrip. Crafted from padded nylon and leather, the silhouette reimagines Moncler's iconic outerwear codes through Owens' unmistakable design language.

Curved, overlapping upper panels and a sculptural padded collar create a striking architectural profile, while a rear-lacing system draws the shoe to a dramatic close at the heel – set atop the signature Trailgrip Vibram® sole. Available in black with beige laces or tonal cloud grey with beige laces, it's a fearless fusion of technical performance and radical design.

Launching late November

The Moon Boot x Moncler Grenoble Icon High Rodeo

Debuted at Moncler Grenoble's Fall/Winter 2026 runway presentation in Aspen, the Moon Boot x Moncler Grenoble Icon High Rodeo merges the technical functionality of a snow boot with the unmistakable spirit of a cowboy boot.

MONCLER

Crafted in suede with nubuck leather inserts, the silhouette features refined embroidered detailing, while the heel and band are made of nappa leather. Available in Chestnut and Caribou colorways.

Launching late November

The Trailgrip GTX

Debuted in 2022, the Trailgrip sneaker has become a Moncler icon, embodying the brand's authentic mountain DNA through a fusion of technical innovation and contemporary design.

Epitomizing utilitarian luxury, its distinctive rugged silhouette and assemblage of world-leading technical fabrications deliver superior traction and comfort, across every terrain. For Fall/Winter 2026, the signature style is refreshed in new orange, and color-block lilac-black or grey-black versions.

MONCLER

Founded in 1952 in the French alpine village of Monestier-de-Clermont, Moncler has evolved from its storied mountain heritage into a brand shaped by creative and cultural exchange, continually expressing a unique point of view.

Rooted in an authentic outdoor heritage that remains a constant source of inspiration, Moncler is driven by a spirit of innovation and energy, which spans three distinct dimensions: Moncler Collection, the signature line defined by warmth, emotion, and refined design; Moncler Grenoble, the mountain and outdoor dimension that lives at the intersection of high performance and high style; and Moncler Genius, a boundary-pushing platform for co-creation, bringing together a global community of creators and dreamers.

Headquartered in Milan, Italy, Moncler operates through a blend of directly owned facilities and a curated network of partners, offering its collections through directly operated physical and digital stores, as well as select multi-brand retailers and department stores worldwide.
