SECTION I

REMUNERATION POLICY

A) Bodies and individuals involved in the preparation and approval of the Remuneration Policy; roles, bodies and individuals responsible for the proper implementation of said Policy

The preparation and approval of the Company's Remuneration Policy involves the Board of Directors, the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, and the Shareholders' Meeting of the Company.

The Board of Directors has the exclusive and non-delegable power to define and yearly approve the Remuneration Policy based on proposals formulated by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee (the composition and responsibilities of the Committee are described in paragraph B below).

Pursuant to Article 123-ter, paragraph 6, of TUF, upon the approval of the financial statements the Shareholders' Meeting is called to resolve in favour of or against the Remuneration Policy described in this section of the Report.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee, in the exercise of its tasks described herein below, the Managing Director and the Board of Directors are responsible of the correct implementation of the Remuneration Policy.

The Remuneration of directors granted with specific charges is determined by the Board of Directors, in accordance with the Remuneration Policy, upon proposal by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee having heard the Board of Statutory Auditors, within the limits of the total compensation determined by the Shareholders Meeting (if any) pursuant to Article 2389, paragraph 3, of the Italian Civil Code and Article 22 of the By-laws.

B) Activity of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee; composition, experience and functioning rules of this Committee

On April 21, 2016, the Board of Directors appointed the members of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, after the amendment of the relevant regulation and recalculation from 5 to 3 of the members of the committee, which shall be in office until the date of approval of the financial statements for the year ended on December 31, 2018. The Nomination and Remuneration Committee is composed by the following 3 non-executive Directors (whose majority is made of independent ones), according to the combined provisions of Article 147-ter, paragraph 4 and Article 148, paragraph 3 of the TUF, and of Article 3 of the Corporate Governance Code:

Diva Moriani (Chairman of the Committee), Virginie Morgon and Marco De Benedetti.

All the members of the Committee have adequate knowledge and experience in the field of finance and compensation policies, as assessed by the Board of Directors upon their Nomination.

Meetings of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee meets at the request of its Chairman whenever the Chairman deems appropriate or when requested to do so by the Executive Directors or by the Chairman of the Board of Statutory Auditors or by the Chairman of the Board of Directors or Managing Director, and, anyway, at least half yearly.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee's works are coordinated by its Chairman.

The Chairman of the Board of Statutory Auditors (or other Statutory Auditors designated by him) participates into the meetings of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee; the other Statutory Auditors may participate as well. The Chairman of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee has the power to invite the Head of the Human Resources department of the Company, the Key-manager in charge for preparing the Company's financial reports, the other Directors may participate as well, also other persons whose are responsible for corporate functions of the Company and its subsidiaries, persons with reference to specific items on the agenda in order to provide information and express evaluations or persons whose presence may help to improve the Committee's work, to the meetings of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

The minutes of the Committee's meetings are prepared. The Chairman and the secretary sign the minutes of meetings, which the secretary files in chronological order.

In line with the recommendations of Article 6.C.6 of the Corporate Governance Code, Directors do not participate in the meetings of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee where proposals are formulated on their own remuneration, except where the proposals are related to the generality of the members of the committees established on the Board of Directors.

Activities of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee

The resolutions of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee are adopted by absolute majority of the Committee's members in charge.

In accordance with the recommendations contained in Article 6 of the Corporate Governance Code, the Nomination and Remuneration Committee carries out the following consultancy activities regarding the Remuneration Policy:

- providing the Board of Directors with proposals for the determination of the remuneration policy for Directors and Key-managers, also through issuance of recommendations on the remuneration which shall be presented by the Directors on the annual Shareholders Meeting;
- assessing periodically the adequacy, general coherence and actual implementation of the remuneration policy of the Directors and Key-managers, availing itself of the information provided by the Managing Director and making proposals to the Board in this respect;

- submitting proposals or expressing opinions to the Board regarding the remuneration of Executive Directors and other Directors having particular charges as well as regarding the determination of performance targets connected to the variable components of the remuneration, monitoring the implementation of the decisions adopted by the Board itself and the actual achieving of performance goals.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee can access the Company's records, functions and structures, interacting with them in a functionally and operationally effective manner to carry out its duties. The Committee can rely on external consultants, at the Company's cost and expense, within the limits of the budget possibly approved annually by the Board of Directors, after it has been assessed that such consultants are not in a position in which their independent judgment is compromised and, in particular, they are not requested to provide the HR department, the directors or the Key-managers with services affecting their independence of judgment.

The Chairman of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee reports to: (i) the Board at least once every six months on the activities performed and (ii) to the Shareholders Meeting at least once a year, upon the annual approval of the financial statements, about the way its functions are carried out.

C) Expert(s) who participated in preparing the Remuneration Policy

No independent expert participated in the preparation of the Remuneration Policy.

D) Purposes pursued with the Remuneration Policy, principles underlying it and any change in the Remuneration Policy compared with the previous year

The Remuneration Policy has been designed with the aim of fulfilling the constant needs for:

- attracting, withholding and motivating people having the professional skills required by the growth perspective of Moncler Group's business;
- matching the interests of the Company and its management with Shareholders' ones;
- promoting the creation of profits for the Shareholders within a mid-long term.

With the aim to reflect the amendments to the Corporate Governance Code, the Remuneration Policy has been integrated with the following items:

- (i) parachute agreements to the Key-managers, effective in case of early termination of the employment relationship;
- (ii) claw back / malus clauses;
- (iii) guaranteed payment of bonus in some specific cases.

Regarding point (i), it is meant that the contracts to hire Key-managers may include clauses providing for a compensation to be paid in case of termination of the employment relationship within a certain limit and pursuant to the provisions of criterion 6.C.1 letter g) and 6.C.3. of the Corporate Governance Code.

Such component of the remuneration does not prevent, however, from inserting provisions enabling the Company to get back (or withhold), in full or in part, the said compensation according to the recommendations by the Corporate Governance Code (criterion 6.C.1. letter f) and 6.C.3.).

With regard to point (ii), the introduction of the claw back / malus clauses has been deemed as positive according to the Corporate Governance Code, that suggests the introduction of “contractual provisions enabling the Company to get back, in full or in part, of the paid variable components of remuneration (or to withhold postponed amounts), determined on the basis of data which then revealed themselves to be clearly wrong” (criterion 6.C.1, letter f).

Regarding point (iii), exclusively during the first year of the employment relationship it could be confer to the Key-managers a total or partial guaranteed the annual incentives (MBO), or in whole or in part bound to qualitative bound of strategic-operational significant relevance.

During the meeting held on March 3, 2016, the Board of Directors, having consulted with the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, has amended the Remuneration Policy with respect to the time of the granting of the MBO to the Executive Directors and the Key-managers, as under Section II.

The Remuneration Policy of Directors and Key-managers is inspired to the following principles:

- a) the fixed component is sufficient to remunerate the performance of Executive Directors and Key-managers if the variable component is not paid due to failure to reach the performance targets specified by the Board;
- b) the fixed component and the variable component of remuneration are adequately balanced based on the Company's strategic objectives and its policy on risk management, with reference to its business field and the characteristics of the activities it conducts;
- c) the variable components are paid within maximum limits;
- d) the performance targets – i.e. the economic results and any other specific objectives linked to payment of variable components (including objectives set for remuneration plans based on stocks) – as better described below, are defined, measurable, and aimed to create value for the Shareholders in the medium/long term;
- e) the variable component consists of a portion linked to short-term criteria and a portion linked to long-term criteria. The second portion is much greater than the first, and is deferred by an adequate lapse of time, that is linked to the achievement of long-term objectives. The duration of such deferment is consistent with the characteristics of the business activities conducted and with related risk profiles;

- f) no compensation for the early termination of the directorship relationship or the failure to renew it (parachute agreements) are provided for. The provision of a compensation for early termination of the employment relationship of Key-managers (parachute agreements) is subject to prior assessment and approval by the Board of Directors, having heard the Nomination and Remuneration Committee. Such compensations must be defined in the light of the motivations of the early termination of the employment relationship of Key-managers;
- g) the Remuneration Policy currently in force within the Company already provides for the possibility to execute non-competition covenants. In particular, there are non-competition covenants with high-level managers, which for now, exclude executive directors and key-managers. Such covenants provide for (i) a one-year duration and (ii) a consideration which may vary from 50% to 70% of the fixed gross annual compensation as for managers, and from 70% to 100% of the fixed gross annual compensation as for top and key executives.

The variable component may include remuneration plans based on stocks, in accordance with the following recommendations of the Code:

- a) the stocks, the options and any other right granted to the Directors and Key-managers for the purchase of stocks or being paid based on the trend of stocks' price, have an average vesting period of at least 3 years;
- b) the vesting period referred to under point a) is subject to performance targets determined in advance and measurable;
- c) the Directors keep a part of the assigned stocks or purchased exercising the right referred to under point a) until the end of their office.

E) Description of policies regarding the fixed and variable components of the compensation package

Considering the objectives and criteria of the Remuneration Policy, the remuneration of Directors and Key-managers is determined as follows:

Directors

The remuneration of the Directors is formulated in order to attract and motivate top professionals to perform their tasks to the best of their ability and to reach the Remuneration Policy objectives described in paragraph D) above.

All Directors receive a fixed compensation that ensures an adequate remuneration for their work and commitment to the Company.

- Non-executive Directors and Independent Directors

The remuneration of non-executive Directors and Independent Directors is determined as a fix compensation and it is proportional to the commitment required, in relation also to their participation into the Board's committees. The remuneration of such Directors is not linked to economic results nor to specific objectives of the Company and such persons do not benefit from remuneration plans based on stocks, unless it is specifically resolved to do so by the Shareholders' Meeting.

- Managing Director and Executive Directors

The remuneration of the Managing Directors and other Executive Directors is fairly balanced in order to ensure consistency between short-term growth objectives and sustainability of value creation for Shareholders in the mid-long term; in particular, the compensation structure consists of:

- (i) a fixed component consistent with the level of internal authority, special positions, and strategic responsibilities assigned;
- (ii) a variable component defined within maximum limits and designed to reward expected short-term (in case of MBO) and medium/long-term results (in case of incentive plans).

The annual fixed component and the short-term variable (MBO) compensation are structured in relation to the characteristics of the position within the Company and the responsibilities attributed to them, in order to guarantee the sustainability of the Company's results and the creation of value for Shareholders in the medium-to-long term.

The objectives related to the variable component are pre-established, measurable and defined in such a way as to ensure, through different accrual periods and parameters, that both short-term and medium-to-long-term performances are rewarded based on the (mostly quantitative) annual results of economic-financial nature achieved by the Group (primarily including the Group's consolidated EBITDA, and, not-primarily, the possible qualitative objectives of significant strategic and operating importance, including those correlated to the sustainability).

The MBO must be structured in order to enable to foreseen the maximum amount of the incentive deriving from achieving the objectives indicated from time to time which, however, in the event of significant over performance and upon resolution by the Board of Directors (having heard the opinion of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee) cannot exceed 100% of the fix component.

In order to contribute to the creation of value in the medium-long term, the Managing Director and the Executive Directors may benefit from incentive plans based on financial instruments pursuant to Article 114-bis of the TUF, prepared in line with best market practices and which call for adequate periods of vesting of the right to exercise assigned options and/or receive the allocated shares (vesting period). For such purpose, the Managing Director and the Executive Directors may also benefit from monetary incentive plans of mid-long term, with a payment deferral mechanism.

Benefits are defined in line with remuneration practices on reference markets and according to the applicable regulations in order to complete and enhance the overall compensation package in consideration of the roles and/or responsibilities assigned.

For each type of role, total remuneration is consistent with applicable market standards, on the basis of analogous categories.

Remuneration packages are subject to periodical review based on the overall Company and personal performance, on the potential future growth of the individual, and on the competitiveness and attractiveness of the remuneration, compared to market values.

Additional compensation

The Policy provides for Directors to receive additional remuneration if they have the charge of directors within the Company's subsidiaries.

Key-managers

The remuneration paid by the Company and its subsidiaries is sufficient to attract and retain highly qualified managers.

Remuneration is structured on a fixed component and a variable component. The fixed part is consistent deemed to be in line with the market standards and it is structured in order to adequately remunerate the commitment and work performed on a continuous basis by the managers. The variable part is linked to the reach of defined objectives with reference to Group's performance, in order to motivate Key-managers to achieve their maximum potential.

Fixed component

Proposals for the salaries of Key Executives are initially evaluated by the Managing Director in cooperation with the Human Resources dept. and then shared with the Nomination and Remuneration Committee; these compensations may be subject to review. Several elements may positively influence such review which can include the individual performance, the level of responsibility, the experience and the expertise.

Variable component

The variable component may consist on (a) an annual incentive (MBO) and (b) on the application of incentive plans based on financial instruments pursuant to Article 114-bis of the TUF.

a. Annual incentive (MBO)

The annual incentive, for those entitled to receive it, has a short-term function and it is aimed to achieve the Company's annual results of economic and financial nature and, in particular, profitability and cash generating objectives, including primarily the Group's consolidated EBITDA as well as, even though not primarily, possible qualitative objectives having high strategic and operative importance, including the aspects related to the sustainability. Its amount may vary from about 20% up to a maximum annual incentive of 40% of the fixed component. In case of significant over performance, the Board of Directors or the Managing Director, having heard the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, may approve the payment of an annual incentive higher than the maximum amount indicate here above, that does not exceed however 100% of the fixed component.

The incentive is paid upon the approval by the Board of Directors of the relevant draft annual financial statements and subject to the verification of the objectives' achievement, and the amounts may vary proportionally to the achieved results, up to the incentive's maximum amount. Only during the first year of employment the Key-manager may be granted with an MBO that is in full or in part, guaranteed or linked to qualitative objectives having significant operative-strategic importance.

The Company may ask the Key-manager to reimburse, in full or in part, the paid amounts or to withhold deferred amounts, if such amounts have been calculated based on data which then revealed themselves as being clearly incorrect and/or behaviors from which a significant loss to the Company derived or, anyway, following acts of willful misconduct or gross negligence resulting into a loss for the Company.

b. Incentive plans based on financial means

Key-managers may receive incentives based on financial instruments pursuant to Article 114-bis of TUF, in line with the best market practices and providing adequate periods of vesting of the right to exercise the assigned options (vesting period).

Key-managers may also be granted with monetary incentive plans of mid-long term, with deferred payment.

Additional compensation

The Policy provides for Key-managers to receive additional remuneration for their possible activities as directors of subsidiaries.

F) Policy regarding non-monetary benefits

Non-monetary benefits are paid in line with standard practices and in accordance with the position and role covered. Non-monetary benefits include the use of a company car, life insurance, accident insurance, and supplemental health insurance.

G) Description of performance targets used to assign variable components

See paragraph E) above.

H) Criteria applied to the evaluation of performance targets used to assign shares, options, other financial instruments, or other variable components of remuneration

In relation to criteria applied for the evaluation of performance targets used to assign stocks, options, other financial instruments, or other variable components of remuneration, such criteria are based on the economic results and profitability achieved by the Group.

In general, the objectives are based on the specific activities carried out by the Company and they are markers of the Company's capability to produce value in a sustainable way and to manage the risks connected to its business within the mid-long term.

I) Information pointing out the consistency of the Remuneration Policy with the pursuit of the Company's long-term interests and with its risk management policy

As described in paragraphs D) and E) above, the Remuneration Policy pursues the creation of value for the Company and its Shareholders in the medium-long term. In line with such objective, the remuneration of Executive Directors and Key Executives is structured in such a manner as to:

- i. balance fixed and variable remuneration in order to create sustainable value for the Company in the medium-long term ;
- ii. link variable compensation to the achievement of operating and financial objectives aligned with the creation of value in the medium-long term and the actual results achieved by the Company;
- iii. pay adequate compensation to attract, motivate, and retain in the medium-long term individuals with the personal and professional skills that are needed to achieve the Company's business development objectives in the medium-long term.

J) Vesting periods and deferred payment systems

With reference to the incentive plans based on financial instruments pursuant to Article 114-bis of TUF, the Remuneration Policy provides for them to include vesting periods for the right to exercise the options and/or to receive the allocated shares (vesting period) of at least three years. The same applies to mid-long term monetary incentive plans.

Furthermore, with regard to the incentive plans based on financial instruments pursuant to Article 114-bis of TUF, the Policy provides for them to include adequate ex-post rectification mechanisms (claw back / malus clauses).

K) Information on clauses for holding financial instruments in portfolio after purchase

The Remuneration Policy adopted by the Company provides for obligations aimed to keep financial instruments within the portfolio purchased with reference to the 2015 Performance Stock Option Plan and the 2016-2018 Performance Shares Plan.

The 2015 Performance Stock Option Plan, approved by the Shareholders' Meeting of April 23, 2015, includes the commitment not to sell the stocks upon the beneficiaries being Executive Directors and Key-managers. Due to such commitment, said beneficiaries shall have the obligation to continuously hold, for at least 12 months as of the exercise date, a number of stock equal to at least 20% of the subscribed ones, once the stocks' vesting period is over, net of the stocks which can be assigned for the payment of (i) the options' exercise price and (ii) tax and fiscal duties, if any, connected to the exercise of the same.

It is also provided that, according to the Code's recommendations, the beneficiaries being also Executive Directors have the obligation, even after the period mentioned here above, to continuously keep a certain percentage of the exercised stocks subject of the commitment not to sell until the end of their charge, whose amount is 50%.

Due to the said clause, therefore, the stocks are subject to inalienability and so they cannot be sold, assigned, swapped, carried-over, anyway given to other persons by means of inter vivos deed, until the expiry of the term referred to herein above, unless this is authorized in writing by the Board of Directors, having heard the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

The 2016-2018 Performance Shares Plan approved by the Shareholders' Meeting of April 20, 2016, also provides for lock-up clauses upon expiration of the vesting period. Namely, the Beneficiaries that are Executive Directors or Key-managers, shall not transfer, respectively: (i) a number of shares equal to 30% of those allocated until the end of their office, and (ii) a number of shares equal to 30% of those allocated, for at least 24 months from the allocation date, net of the shares assignable for the payment of taxes, and social security contributions, where due, connected with the allocation of the shares.

Such shares shall be subject to a lock-up obligation – and therefore they shall not be transferred, contributed, exchanged, loaned, or be subject to any other acts inter vivos – until the expiration of the term as set forth above, except in case of prior written authorization by the Board of Directors, having consulted with the Remuneration Committee.

Otherwise, the 2014-2018 Stock Option Plan does not provide for undertakings to sell the subscribed stocks after the vesting period. In order to make the 2014-2018 Stock Option Plan consistent with the Remuneration Policy adopted by the Company, as well as coordinating it with the 2015 Performance Stock Option Plan (described below), the Executive Directors and Key-managers as beneficiaries have reached an agreement with the Company through which they undertake the same obligations arising from the implementation of the above mentioned clauses.

L) Policy regarding benefits provided in case of resignation or termination of employment

The Remuneration Policy does not provide for the subscription of agreements for the directorship relationship ruling “ex ante” the economic aspects in case of early termination of the charge from a director or the possible early termination of the relationship by the Company or the concerned person or in case of lack of renewal.

The Remuneration Policy may provide, instead, for agreements ruling ex ante the economic aspects in case of early termination of the employment relationship of Key-managers (parachute agreements), subject to the prior assessment and approval by the Board of Directors, having heard the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

Such compensations must be defined in the light of the reasons underlying the early termination of the employment relationship of Key-managers. In particular, the compensation shall be paid in the following events (i) mutual agreement; (ii) change in the ownership or corporate control if this implies the termination of the relationship within a 6 months term; (iii) dismissal for objective reasons, being the case of Key-manager’s resignation which is not due to justified reason expressly excluded, or dismissal due to justified reasons pursuant to Article 2119 of the Italian Civil Code and dismissal due to justified subjective reasons.

However, the compensations shall not be higher than what is provided by the current laws and relevant CCNL in respect of the gross maximum supplementary compensation in case of un-justified dismissal, in addition to the prior notice as per the applicable law and contractual provisions.

Such compensation shall be paid subject to the Key-manager having preliminarily subscribed conciliation minutes pursuant to Article 2113 of the Italian Civil Code and Article 411 of the Italian Civil Procedure Code, declaring that his claims regarding the termination of the contract are fully satisfied, waiving all and any other remedies and to receive the indemnities set forth by the applicable law and relevant CCNL arising from the termination of the employment relationship with the sole exception of compulsory treatments provided for by the law.

However, the Company may ask the Key-manager to reimburse, in full or in part, the amounts paid or to withhold the deferred amounts where such amounts have been calculated based on data which then revealed themselves as being clearly incorrect or if the termination of the contract is due to the achieving of results which are objectively inadequate or to behaviors from which a significant loss to the Company derived or, anyway, following acts of willful misconduct or gross negligence resulting into a loss for the Company.

Non-competition agreements may be stipulated, instead, according to the applicable law and regulations.

M) Information on insurance, health, or pension coverage other than mandatory forms

As mentioned in paragraph F) above, non-monetary benefits may include life insurance, accident insurance and supplemental health insurance other than mandatory forms.

N) Remuneration Policy applied to: (i) Independent Directors, (ii) participation in committees, and (iii) performance of special roles

In accordance with the provisions of the Code, the remuneration of non-executive Directors is not linked to the economic results achieved by the Company.

The Remuneration Policy provides for the payment of additional fixed compensation to Non-executive Directors and to Independent Directors who are members of Committees formed within the Board to adequately remunerate the additional work and commitment provided to the Company.

See paragraph E) above for further information and for information on the remuneration of Key-managers.

O) Other companies as reference for the definition of the remuneration policy

The Company's Remuneration Policy was drawn up using Italian and foreign companies of similar size and business sector as reference parameters.

SECTION II

COMPENSATION RECEIVED BY MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, BY MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF STATUTORY AUDITORS, AND BY KEY EXECUTIVES IN FINANCIAL YEAR 2016
