Why a Group Anti-Corruption Policy

Moncler Group is an international organization that operates in various institutional, economic, political, social and cultural settings which are continuously and rapidly evolving. Global presence leads to great challenges and key responsibilities. The ability to abide by all applicable laws, regulations and social responsibilities is one of them, given the multitude of jurisdictions in which the Group operates¹.

Current trends show that regulatory and social environments around the world are more and more focused on specific anti-corruption legislations. This evolution is aimed at strengthening the fight against corruption, to avoid both ethical and business damages. From an ethical point of view, corruption harms the integrity of all those involved and undermines the basic values of the organizations to which they belong. From a business point of view, corruption leads to sub-optimal outcomes for companies such as legal risks, reputation disruption and financial costs, including fines.

A definition of Corruption

Corruption can be defined as payments and provision of any other thing of value to empowered persons - either in the private or public sector - to ensure an illicit advantage for the Group or a personal benefit which can damage the Group's image.

Corruption definition includes both (i) offering, promising, giving, paying - or authorizing somebody to offer, promise, give or pay -, directly or indirectly, an economic advantage or any other benefit in favor of public or private parties - “Active Bribery” and (ii) accepting a request or solicitation - or authorizing someone to accept a request or solicitation - concerning an economic advantage or any other benefit from public or private parties - “Passive Bribery”.

Anti-Corruption Policy Purpose

The provisions and guidelines contained in this Policy are inspired by company culture and the behavioral principles set out in Moncler's Code of Ethics and have been developed analyzing the potential activities that can expose the Group to the risk of corruption. They promote the highest standards in all of our business dealings, conducting activities with loyalty, fairness, transparency, honesty and integrity and provide specific rules for preventing, detecting and managing corruption risks within the Group's influence.

Anti-Corruption Policy Recipients

Officers, members of any committee of the Group's companies, directors, managers, employees, business partners, entities working as suppliers and consultants, eventual agents and anyone acting on behalf of the Group are required to be honest, transparent, loyal and professional in their business conducts, wherever they operate, in order to act in strict compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

¹ Among others, main conventions and laws to refer to are: (i) OECD Recommendation for Further Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions; (ii) United Nations Convention against Corruption (UNCAC).

Moncler Group requires its people to operate in compliance with applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations and be aware of the Group values, standards and principles. Moncler firmly believes that acting in accordance with principles detailed in the Code of Ethics, in this Policy as well as in the laws and regulations will prevent cases of corruption and will contribute to protect the ethical and responsible business conduct.

Moncler's Code of Ethics states that "In the course of their activities, both in Italy and abroad, the Addressees shall apply the principles of the Code of Ethics and shall abide by principles of fairness, correctness and transparency in the aim to preserve the equity of Moncler Group and to safeguard its respectability and its perception whilst respecting any legislation in force and maintaining clear relationships with shareholders and stakeholders".

In dealing with third parties "are prohibited gifts, benefits and acts of kindness and hospitality unless their nature and value could not be interpreted as aimed at obtaining favorable treatment and, in any case, do not compromise the Company's image".

With regard to relations with Public Administration, "the Addressees shall refrain from offering, directly or through a third party, money or other benefits to any public officer, to members of his/her family or to any other person in any way connected to him/her or seeking and maintaining any personal relationship to favor, influence, interfere which has the scope of directly or indirectly conditioning his/her activity".

Activities you should avoid

- Active and Passive Bribery - Moncler forbids both "Active Bribery" and "Passive Bribery", when such activities are aimed at inducing, influencing and compensating any unlawful activity both to favor Moncler and to gain personal advantages in a way that can damage the Group's image.
- Facilitation Payments - Moncler forbids facilitation payments - payments in favor of Public Officials, in Italy and abroad, aimed at expediting, supporting or securing the realization of a routine activity.

General Principles

As general principles, in order to prevent and monitor breaches in applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations Moncler requires its people involved in Group's business daily activities, whenever possible and applicable, to:

- avoid to assign the responsibility of completing one task/activity to a unique process owner (Segregation of Duties principle);
- respect the Group Delegation of Authority;
- guarantee the formalization and traceability of the decision making process;
- comply with applicable policies and procedures in place;
- guarantee accuracy, correctness and completeness of accounting records of each business transaction.

The following areas have been evaluated as potentially exposed to corruption risks through a risk identification and assessment activity and identified with the involvement of the Group Executives, based on Group activities as well as international best practices².

- 1. Relationships with Public Institutions Representatives.
- 2. Relationships with Suppliers, Professionals and Consultants.
- 3. Relationships with Agents and Intermediaries.
- 4. Relationships with Business Partners of Joint Ventures and Executives.
- 5. Managing Donations, Sponsorships, Entertainment Expenses, Gift and Gratuities.
- 6. Managing Human Resources.

² International best practices arise from:

- United Nations Global Compact: a strategic policy initiative for businesses that are committed to aligning their operations and strategies with 10 universally accepted principles in the areas of human rights, labor, environment and anti-corruption;
- Organization of Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD): the organization promoting policies that improve the economic and social well-being of people around the world;
- Transparency International (TI): the global civil society organization leading the fight against corruption. It is responsible for calculating country indexes quantifying corruption risks around the world.

Moncler Group interacts with different Public Institutions Representatives in/for:

- Obtaining authorizations, licenses and permits related to: new Directly Operated Stores (DOS) opening and DOS restructuring and maintenance, set up of new Subsidiaries and the organization of fashion shows and corporate events.
- Inspections and requests for information by Public Authorities and Customs: verifying headquarters, subsidiaries, offices, stores, showrooms, warehouses and product compliance with applicable laws and regulations (e.g. import/export duties and trade compliance).
- Public subsidies: Moncler receives public contributions and financial support for activities such as employees training. Moreover, the Group interacts with public entities in order to receives public funding and contribute, operating its business, to the local economic development.

Moncler Group defines the anti-corruption compliance processes and the related roles and responsibilities to facilitate the Group to abide by anti-corruption laws and regulations. The Anti-Corruption Governance System is based on the following:

SET-UP AND TRAINING

1. Monitoring of change in business activities and regulatory requirements
2. Bribery risk identification and assessment
3. Policy design and update
4. Communication and Training

MONITORING AND REPORTING

5. Non-compliance notifications - Whistleblowing
6. Audit activities
7. Reporting
8. Disciplinary measures

UPDATING

9. Group Anti-Corruption Policy Update and Approval

While anti-corruption is Moncler responsibility, the Anti-Corruption Governance System is the primary responsibility owned by the Worldwide Compliance Function in coordination with the Internal Audit Department.

4.1 Monitoring of change in business activities and regulatory requirements

Moncler Group is eager to comply with laws and regulations of each country in which we operate. For this purpose, it is essential to perform a periodic monitoring of applicable requirements to comply with anti-corruption laws.

Presidents of Regions and Local Head of Functions, in coordination with Worldwide Compliance Function and with local legal support, are in charge of monitoring applicable anti-corruption requirements and changes in local legislation. In case of changes in local legislation, the Anti-Corruption Governance System will then be reviewed to evaluate its compliance and effectiveness and the corrective actions defined.

4.2 Bribery risk identification and assessment

The WW Compliance Function, in cooperation with Internal Audit Function and other Group and Local Functions, are in charge of risk identification and assessment to be carried out on a periodic basis. Activities within this area are aimed at identifying the Group's areas of exposure to bribery risks, considering Moncler business, social environment and third parties, as well as evaluating the suitability and effectiveness of the existing controls.

4.3 Policy and Procedures implementing and update

Group and Local Functions shall effectively implement, eventually with the assistance of WW Compliance Function and Internal Audit Dept., the provisions contained in the Group Anti-corruption Policy.

It is important that all local documents (e.g. operating procedures) are compliant with external requirements and also consistent with Anti-Corruption Policy and other Company procedures.

Local Management shall communicate to WW Compliance Function any specific needs to formalize/update appropriate rules and local controls.

4.4 Communication and Training

Communication and training activities are necessary for an effective Anti-Corruption Program implementation and to ensure that everyone is fully aware of the Anti-Corruption Policy. For this purpose, on a regular basis Moncler develops training, awareness material and activities at Group level enhancing the understanding and continuous update of Anti-Corruption requirements, risks and expected behaviors. At Local level training and awareness activities will be developed coherently with Group initiatives to meet specific needs and requirements.

The WW Group Compliance Function shall assist other Group Functions in development and review of training material, in coordination with the Human Resources Function.

Everyone is required to attend the above mentioned training activities, to peruse the relevant documentation and to give evidence of such activities.

4.5 Non-Compliance Notifications - Whistleblowing System

Moncler Group is eager to be aware of any potential misconduct which might lead to anti-corruption breaches. Should anyone has reasonable belief that a behavior might be at risk of violating the law or the Group principles, he / she should promptly report the issue through the available whistleblowing system. (Please refer to the “Whistleblowing Procedure” for further details)

Moncler Group encourages employees to communicate any concerns about wrongdoing and malpractices to their Managers first or directly to the Internal Audit Director as “Designated Officer”. The WW Compliance Function shall be involved in technical analysis aimed at understanding and investigating non-Compliance issues reported.

4.6 Audit Activities

The WW Compliance Function, in coordination with the Internal Audit Function, conducts periodic auditing activities to verify (i) compliance with Group guidelines (ii) whether measures to prevent corruption risks are adequately designed and work effectively (iii) non-compliance notifications received.

4.7 Reporting to Top Management

Group Heads of Functions shall immediately inform the WW Compliance Function of significant risks, changes in applicable laws and regulations and non compliance issues.

WW Compliance Function shall provide the Top Management and the Risk Control and Sustainability Committee with the results of activities related to the Anti-Corruption Program implementation - whistleblowing, auditing activities, proposed corrective actions, status of training activities and periodic reviews and updates to the documents.

4.8 Disciplinary Measures

Moncler people are all required to comply with the principles contained in this Policy. Any violation of the Group’s Anti-Corruption Policy constitutes a breach of the Group’s values, and might lead to disciplinary actions evaluated, on a case by case basis, by the WW Human Resources Function, and, when appropriate, supported by WW Compliance and Legal & Corporate Affairs Functions.

4.9 Group Anti-Corruption Policy Update and Approval

The Group Anti-Corruption Policy is updated by WW Compliance Function, with the support of other Group Functions, and approved by Board of Directors.

SPREAD THE WORD

Be the first example for colleagues in carrying out day-to-day activities. Help the Group to spread a sensitive anti-corruption culture ensuring everyone is conscious about potential anti-corruption risk situations so that we can effectively tackle issues as a team.

PLEASE SPEAK UP

When suspecting someone is behaving illegally or unethically please speak up.

The following speaking up channels have been put in place by Moncler:
